ATTENTION ROPSHAW.

Re London conference Aug 1948 and subsequent US/UK agreement on certain German scientists. In view of present political developments and impracticability of fully implementing this agreement, it is recommended that representatives of interested agencies meet in London or Washington to discuss following points as matter of urgency.

1. Possibility of joint action on US and UK critical lists of German scientists.

(A) Integration of lists.

(B) Coordination of action in emergency.

(C) Determination of future policy and its implementation, including possibility of German cooperation.

2. Revision of policy and directives governing CAL with view to establishing a list of German scientists who would be of value to Western Powers and given preferential consideration in positive functions to counteract Eastern influence, i.e., exchange of scientists, research contracts, et cetera. Present policy of allocation of German scientists is no (rpt no) longer fully effective.
